CATS & DOGS

EASY TAB

Giving tablets to your pet has never been easier!

The problem?

With age, dogs and cats may develop chronic diseases that require regular treatment. It often involves giving pets tablets, which in general are not the tastiest ones. Some of them, worming tablets in particular, are quite big. Unfortunately animals are reluctant to take tablets, usually spitting them out. So how do you give them and ensure that the treatment process is successful, without discouraging the pet?

Homemade treats

Many carers try to hide the tablet in food. However, homemade treats are often unhealthy and high in calories:

1 piece of cake = 140 kcal

1 slice of bread and pâté = 30 kcal

1 slice of cheese (20 g) = 75 kcal

1 slice of sausage/salami (25 g) = 75 kcal

1 slice of ham = 30 kcal

The solution?

The solution that makes the work of veterinary doctors and animal carers easier is Easy Tab from VetExpert. Easy Tab are balls of meat in which you can easily hide the tablet. Easy Tab transforms the potentially traumatic experience of giving tablets into a happily accepted treat!

Method

1 Hide

Squash the ball in your fingers and place the tablet inside. Depending on the size of the tablet use one or two balls.

2 Wrap

Wrap the tablet well.

3 Treat

Give to the animal as a tasty treat.
